

How to have your say

We want to hear from you. Your feedback will help shape the revised Australian Curriculum.

Get to know the consultation Australian Curriculum

The consultation version of the learning area curriculum is available in three formats. Choose the one that best suits you:

- All elements: the introductory information and all the curriculum details
- Scope and sequence: proposed content descriptions and achievement standards only
- Comparative information: current and proposed content descriptions and achievement standards.

The general capabilities and cross-curriculum priorities are presented in one format only. This format includes the current and proposed revisions.

Become familiar with the survey format and questions

All feedback is through an online survey. If you wish, you can download the survey to become familiar with the questions prior to completing it online.

The survey can be completed individually or you can submit a group response.

The proposed content descriptions and elaborations have codes. Use these codes when you want to make reference to a specific content description or elaboration in the survey.

Complete the survey

You can find a link to the survey on the curriculum specific page or in the bottom banner of the consultation website. If you are responding to:

- learning areas – you will be able to select the survey specific to the learning area or subject and for different years (F-6, 7-10 or F-10)
- general capabilities – you will be able to select the ones you want to give feedback on, once you start the survey
- cross-curriculum priorities – you will be able to select the ones you want to give feedback on, once you start the survey.

You can give feedback on as many curricula as you like. If you want to save your survey feedback and come back at another time to complete it, read and follow these instructions.

Take the time to read the terms and conditions so you know how your feedback will be used by ACARA.
